

Hey Ma, Look What I Found!

MOTHER'S DAY - SUNDAY MAY 8

That's right, it's almost Mother's Day. What better way to show her you care (and have awesome taste) by picking up some Worker B products? Go on, she'll love it. Our favorite mom does!

"I just want to tell you how happy I am with your lotion bar. I swim 5x's a week and this winter I've experienced dry, itchy skin after swimming. Using the lotion bar has made a miraculous difference in just one use. Thank you!"

- Karen S. (Uncle Mike's Mom)

Time's a-wastin' - what are you waiting for?

It's Almost Farmer's Market Time!

Worker B kicks off the 2011 Farmer's Market season on Saturday May 21!

We are very excited to start the 2011 season at the Minneapolis Farmer's Market in just a few short weeks! This year is going to be extra special because we will be sharing a booth with our long-time friends Scotty and Deanna from Swede Lake Farm.

Swede Lake Farm is located in Watertown, Minnesota and uses sustainable / organic practices to grow rare and endangered garlic varieties acquired from around the globe. All of their garlic is hand-planted and hand-harvested from their farm straight to you!

Swede Lake grows more than awesome garlic though. Their line-up includes lots of produce such as garlic scapes, edamame, tomatoes, kale, and loads of other good stuff. They even make worm castings! They were recently featured in the New York Times Home and Garden Section. Read all about it! This will be their first year at the Minneapolis Farmer's Market so be sure to come out and show your support!

Stop by during market season (May - October) and you'll be able to chat with us, ask any questions directly about Worker B and Swede Lake, and pick up some great local products while you're at it!

Look for these crazy kids (though hopefully not in winter hats):

BEES!

We've been hard at work preparing for the arrival of our very own bees!

We've been assembling and painting bee boxes, trying on bee suits, and figuring out just exactly where the little gals will live. Next Saturday, we'll be installing our hives at this location at Swede Lake Farm (remember them?).

The bees are sure to be happy in their new home with lots of water and wildflowers! We are really excited to have our own bees so we can start using some of our own honey and propolis for Worker B products. Yay!

Branching Out...

Worker B has added several new retail locations just in the last few months!

Minnesota

Seward Community Co-op, Minneapolis MN
Good Earth Food Co-op, St Cloud MN
Cook County Whole Foods Co-op, Grand Marais MN

Iowa

Balance Rx Integrated Pharmacy, Pleasant Hill IA
New Pioneer Co-op Wellness Department, Coralville IA
Campbell's Nutrition, Des Moines IA
Wheatsfield Co-op, Ames IA (coming soon)

As always you can find all locations at our website.

Still not close enough? Ask your local co-op or favorite store to carry Worker B or have them contact us! Chances are we've talked to them already but customer requests go a long way and you can help us grow!

WHAT'S THE BUZZ?

We Say Worker B's
Handcrafted Goods!

By Leslie Smith

Worker B was featured in April's Lakewinds Natural Foods newsletter.

Here's a little excerpt:

"The Lakewinds' wellness staff is just "buzzing" about this new product (pun intended). They have been looking for a local bee product company like Worker B that uses organic ingredients whenever possible and never any filler. Worker B products are clean, support local and sustainable practices and qualify for the Wellness Department's new Clear Conscience label. You've got to love honeybees as much as the Worker B group does when you consider how much bees contribute to our lives. . ."
